Jeffries Beaten by Johnson.

James J. Jeffries, at one time champion heavy weight fighter of the world, was whipped in a very decisive manner by Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, on Monday, at Reno, Nev.

The fight lasted only fifteen rounds, and according to the newspaper reports there never was a time after the fifth round when Jeffries stood any show of winning, it being easy money for the negro from start to finish.

Announcement of Candidacy.

—At the urgent solicitation of friends throughout the district, I hereby announce myself a candidate for nomination as State Senator for the Ninth Senatorial District, of Wisconsin, at the Republican primaries, to be held on the first Tuesday in September, 1910.

Nash Mitchell,
(P. O. address, Pittsville, Wis.)

Henry Hasbrouck has been in the city several days past visiting at the home of Anna Hasbrouck.

Did a Big Business.

Supr. Rosser of the Street Ry. company reports that the street cars carried a total of 4399 people on the Fourth of July, and then it was impossible to accommodate the crowd. Had the company possessed another motor car, with power to operate it, they would have carried another thousand people. As it was there was pretty good service, there being a car every half hour between this city and Nekoma.

Race Was On.

Many of the cities in the south experienced a small sized race war when the outcome of the big fight was announced. In many places the negroes, who had won some money on the fight, became so arrogant that they pushed white people off the sidewalks and in some instances openly attacked them with knives and clubs. The results were invariably a fight and in some instances men were killed and others wounded.

BIRTHS

A son to Mr. and Mrs. James Vaughan at Berlin.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Fred John on June 30.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of the east side on July 1th.

Mrs. Charles Vickers of Milwaukee, sister to Mrs. O. A. Normington, is in the city a guest at the Normington home. Mrs. Wm. Moore of Green Bay, sister to Mr. Normington, arrived in the city on Tuesday and is also a guest at the Normington home.

Mrs. Geo. P. Hambrecht returned on Friday from Tomah, where she had been to attend the wedding of her daughter, Miss Jessie Grace. Mr. Hambrecht was also in Tomah the latter part of the week.

Charles Johnson, who is engaged in lumbering in Arkansas, has been in the city for the past few days visiting with friends. While in Arkansas, Mr. Johnson does not speak very enthusiastically of that part of the country as a place of residence.

FOURTH OF JULY PROPERLY OBSERVED

The Fourth of July celebration in this city called out a large number of people notwithstanding the fact that it was not started until rather late, and was not so widely observed as it would have been had there been more time.

The band was out at nine in the morning and already a goodly crowd had begun to line the sidewalks. The entertainment given by the Japanese family, consisted of bad punning, juggling, and tumbling, and they put on quite a variety of stunts. Douglas and Douglas did some juggling and contortion work which was also well liked by the audience. The morning was taken up by these exhibitions about town, and after dinner there was more of the same work, with music by the band, after which there was a ball game at the park, to which a large number of people went to see the locals trouncing the Portage team to the tune of 11 to 0.

In the evening the fireworks were displayed on the west bank of the river south of the bridge, and the assortment was certainly one of the best ever seen in this city. After the fireworks there was a dance in the Amusement hall given by the firemen, and also one at the pavilion down the river, at both of which places there was a good crowd.

While numbers of people came to this city from Nekoma, there were also many who went down there to spend at least a part of the day, and the result was that the street car company had about all the business they could handle.

The day was an ideal one, there being a cool breeze blowing all day, and as there were no accidents reported it was a most pleasant celebration from start to finish.

Mayor Wheelan took personal charge of things and was on the job all day, assisted by both the east and west side firemen, who besides rendering what assistance they could, gave a fire run during the morning.

A Game Apiece.

The Portage ball team played two games in this city, one on Sunday and one on Monday, and the outcome was a game apiece. Sunday's game was taken by Portage with one, they finishing out pitcher with one, like regularity, which, combined with some poor fielding and hard luck, gave them eleven runs, while our boys were making two.

On Monday, however, the locals played ball from the word go and although there were several times when the visitors had three men on base, and a very good chance to score, they failed to make good, and at the end of the game the locals had thirteen while the visitors had nine, a beautiful game well marked up on their credit.

The Portage boys are a bunch of pretty good ball players, just the same and nearly all of them are good at the stick, but in this they made on Monday failed to make good. There was a large crowd in attendance at Monday's game, the grand stand and bleachers being full, besides a large number of automobiles and rigs that occupied all the available spaces.

Broke an Ankle.

Robert Morse, the court reporter, broke one of his ankles on Monday while returning from the ball game. He was riding back to the city with Geo. N. Wood in the latter's runabout, when in turning out for a team the auto skidded in the sand. As it was going for the ditch and a nearby telephone pole, Mr. Morse jumped from the auto and landed on his feet in such a manner that the bone in one of his ankles was fractured.

The automobile got thru without damage and Mr. Morse was at once taken home where he was given medical attention and has since been getting along as well as can be expected. Although the fracture is not a particularly bad one it is not expected that it will be possible for Mr. Morse to bear his weight on the limb for the next six weeks.

Jury Awards Damages.

After many adjournments and much legal delay the jury got together on Friday and viewed the premises of Harvey Geo and Saul Preston, and after several witnesses were examined they set a price on the two properties. The Harvey Geo property was appraised at $2500.00 and the Saul Preston property at $1500.00.

Mr. Geo. has made the statement that he will appeal the case, which he has ten days for, after which the case will be tried out in circuit court. In case Mr. Geo. appeals it is probable that the city will appeal also.

Stock Fair Tuesday.

Next Tuesday is the regular stock fair day, and farmers and others interested are requested to make a note of the date and be on hand if they have anything to dispose of. The fair will be held on the east side next Tuesday, and Manager H. D. reports that there is a good demand for everything in the line of live stock. The Holland Packing company will take all the stock that is brought in that is in good condition. The brewery will give an eighth of a bar to the farmer bringing in the large number of empty kegs.

Don't forget the day and date, Tuesday, July 12th.

The production of St. Elmo at Daly's Theater on Monday evening was largely attended, and those who saw the play pronounced it to be first class.

Mrs. Orestes Garrison entertained a party of fifty friends at her home on South Third street on Saturday afternoon. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent by those in attendance.

Frank Willard of Madison came up to spend the Fourth with his wife, who has been visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Ridgman for some time past. They left for home on Tuesday.

Leon LeRoux and family left on Saturday for Sherry where they spent the Fourth visiting at the farmstead of O. LeRoux. Mr. LeRoux returned on Tuesday but his family expect to spend the remainder of the week there.

Emile Olson and Mens Holt of Iowa were arrested on Friday for being drunk and disorderly, and upon being taken before Justice Pomainville plead guilty to the charge against them and were fined a dollar apiece. Not having the wherewithal to liquidate their indebtedness they were given five days in jail.

Persons on the vigil and on Saturday, a pocket note book, filled with written memoranda of property owners names, with description, location, etc. Owner may have same by calling at the Tribune office, proving property and paying for this note.

EMPIRE STATE OF BRAZIL

FORNAL OF BRAZILIAN CATTLE, STATE OF SAO PAULO

Washington—Fully four and a half out of every five pounds of coffee drunk in the United States comes from Brazil, and the proportion is growing steadily higher, principally because the Brazilian bean is of a superior quality and flavor. The generally accepted fact is that the coffee of Brazil is the richest in the world, and it is a fact that the Mocha and Java that reach this country in a year would not supply St. Louis for six months.

It is generally known and understood that the greater proportion of the Brazilian coffee comes from the state of Sao Paulo in that country, and the statement that Sao Paulo is the richest state in the Brazilian Union is no "vast coffee estate" has been made so frequently that the general impression has been abroad that little else but coffee is produced in the state. It is true that Sao Paulo alone, last year, produced 1,116,000,000 pounds of coffee that had a value of $140,000,000, and that this vast aggregate found its way outward through the greatest coffee port in the world, Santos; but it is also true that Sao Paulo has a host of other industries that are developing at a rate that is astonishing. It is in Sao Paulo that the great wheat growing concessions have been granted; it is from Sao Paulo that the enormous shipments to Europe of live cattle will be made; it is Sao Paulo that now maintains three hundred factories engaged

HONOR RESTED WITH AUTHOR

How the Late Popular Writer, O. Henry, Outwitted Unscrupulous Editor.

A friend of the late O. Henry writes of him: "He was reckless in spending money, and frequently gave elevator boys and bellboys $5 and $10 notes. But he wasn't 'easy' despite his financial recklessness. His friends narrated an incident showing the man's shrewdness. A magazine noted for 'slow pay,' they say, contracted with him for a three-part story, for which he was to receive fifteen hundred dollars. He got a five hundred dollar advance before starting to work, and when he turned in the second installment (none of it had been printed yet) got five hundred dollars more, and asked for the third five hundred dollars as an advance before finishing the tale. The editor, in an effort to save money, apparently, declared that, after all the story didn't appear to be worth more than one thousand dollars—this when he had the two installments in his office. 'All right,' said O. Henry, 'I won't write the third one then.' And he didn't. He laughed at the editor. 'Well then,' said the latter, 'I'll run the two parts and then let our readers have a guessing contest as to how the story ends—and put up, perhaps, a five hundred prize to the winner. For a moment the author thought he was outwitted. Then he said: 'Go ahead—and I'll win the prize.' He intended to win it, too."

An Office Business Only.
A young man called at the office of a justice of the peace and with some hesitation made known his business, which was to be married. The justice replied that he thought he could perform the service, and asked if the young man had his license.
"Yes, sir," the youth replied.
"Well, where is the young lady?"
"She's at her father's."
"Well, bring her here."
"She'd rather be married at home, equite."

And you expect me to go there and marry you?
"Yes, sir, if you please."
"Young man," said the justice, "this office of mine is like a department store. We sell matches here, but we don't deliver them at the house."
—Youth's Companion.

Slightly Confused.
Marie was making her first visit to the beach. She was fearless of the water, and spent as much of her time in bathing as she was allowed. One morning there was an unusually strong undertow, and many of the bathers spoke of it. Marie, hearing them, stowed away the new phrase in her mind.
When she came in from her bath, she told how fine the water was, and told of the fun she had had. Then, assuming her grown-up manner, she remarked: "Oh, but the undertow was strong this morning!"

Profited by Their Dreams.
Mrs. Radcliffe confessed that some of the most thrilling incidents in the "Mysteries of Udolpho" were inspired by nightmares produced by snipping on pork chops. Tertius, the great violinist, after dining indiscreetly, dreamed that he had made a bargain with the devil for his soul. To prove his powers the devil once seized a violin and played a sonata of exquisite beauty. Tertius awoke with the music ringing in his ears, committed the music to paper and published it as "The Devil's Sonata."

Work.

The law of the worthy life is fundamentally the law of strife. It is only through labor and painful effort, by grim energy and resolute courage, that we move on to better things.—Theodore Roosevelt.

Time Lost Through Illness.
For every person who dies in a year, there are two people constantly ill. Each person loses, on an average, 23 days a year by illness.

Improving.
We think the world is growing better. There seems to be an increasing determination to make the other fellow do what is right.—Puck.

Daily Thought.
It is not so much what we do as what we are that tells in this world.

FOR WEDDING DAY

QUESTION OF ATTIRE IS A MOST SERIOUS ONE.

Bride and Her Nearest Female Relatives Are Alike Profoundly Interested in the Most Momentous Question.

Whereof shall the bride and her maids be clothed and in what shall the proud mothers array themselves to do honor to the high occasion? Entertaining merchants began weeks ago to display their alluring pieces of dainty, undressings, midsummer gowns, and other finery for the bride and by this time she has her trousseau about complete. Maids and mothers are giving serious thought to the gowns and hats in which they will assemble and make a fitting picture for the girl they delight to honor.

Rich and elaborate designs are left to older matrons, while the maids may indulge only in simpler ideas, whatever the character of the materials. Velvet, marquisette, tulle, muslin, lace, satin, silk and satin and chiffon, all the light and supple fabrics, give the bridesmaids plenty of room for the exercise of individual taste. The gowns of embroidered balise made up with val or cluny lace and elaborated with hand embroidery.

MAINTAIN DRAW-IN EFFECT

Women are still insistent in the matter of the retention of the slender silhouette, and although skirts have taken unto themselves a more voluminous outline, there is a straight edge secured on most of the evening or afternoon gowns by a draw-in at the foot near the lower edge of the skirt. This is secured in many ways. There is a clever manipulation of the fulness of the tunic by gathering the edge into a deep silk or satin hem. This varies in width, and is a straight band or deep-pointed fold.

The fulness of the outer skirt is also held in by a deep hem of contrasting color and material. Another scheme is the use of cordings run through while the fabric is being made up to give the hidden cord a display on the skirt. Slot ribbons encircling the skirt wind in and out, now hidden beneath the folds of chiffon, voile or muslin and now bursting into bars of color.

You see that the full skirts are made subservient to the demands of the time, an evidence that at last the lines of fashion are not too compelling and that the artistic eye is in control in the deciding of a costume.

Old Lace Dresses.

Now the transparent over draperies are so much in vogue, those women who possess a half-worn lace gown should resurrect it. White or cream chiffon should veil laces in these shades, but black may be used under black chiffon or a dark color, such as dull wine red.

Colored laces may be covered with chiffon in the same color, using a different tone—lighter or darker, as considered the better choice—or a color harmonizing with the lace.

An Embroidery Hint.

Workers who use a frame when embroidering find the matter of installing handkerchiefs or napkins within the frame a little difficult. Overcast together the stamped corners of four napkins or handkerchiefs, and then they can easily be put in the frame for embroidering.

Puffy Hands.

Puffy hands indicate poor circulation. Loosen your corsets and massage the hands and arms daily. Wrapping the hands as though in girdle or pain will start the blood to flow more freely.

MUST NEVER BE NEGLECTED

They must be worn with a certain quaint smartness, or you will defeat your purpose and bring down on your head the ridicule of those who know. It is not to be denied that there is a decided acceptance of the fashion for a certain type of picturesque costume.

It would seem trite and unnecessary to suggest that hat strings belong to the afternoon hat, but if the fact be recognized that there are many crimes against good taste committed in the name of fashion, it will be realized that some facts must be reiterated.

The large flat hat is a beautiful model upon which the hat strings can be placed with impunity. The drooping mushroom shape, with its quaint, old-fashioned garland of silk roses, is another type that will carry the hat strings.

Of velvet, silk or chiffon these may be. Perhaps velvet holds first place, chet in motives, medallions and inserts, are, perhaps, more generally favored than all others. Embroidered swags also comes in for a good share of attention.

These sheer gowns may be worn over plain slips of muslin or silk in any color and their usefulness by no means ceases with the passing of the wedding day. They are good for all summer and for several summers. For the pretty lingerie gown has come to stay—a feature of midsummer. They are successfully cleaned or even laundered, if they become soiled, and the handsome ones are of open-work embroidery on sheer grounds with insertions of lace outlining the seams and medallions and motifs, charming the body's another advantage lies in the change possible in the color of the underpiece.

The new wide creases make lovely gowns, which can also be easily cleaned, and are therefore practical. Where one must reckon with a slender purse, the usefulness and durability of material is the question of importance.

In the illustration, examples of gowns in cloth and tulle are given. Lace and perian or embroidered bands, with nets in sleeves and as gumpers, serve for decorative features. The guest of bridal banquet is the most fascinating, but not the easiest of all shopping tours, which engage the time and attention of women. So many things must be considered. Colors in the wedding party must be harmonious; one costume must not be startlingly in contrast to others by reason of its expenseiveness—the effect of the ensemble must never be lost sight of.

Enamelled Jewelry.
Bright blue enamel in round spots is set into the solid metal with a delightful smoothness that lapped durability in much of the new silver jewelry.

Silver is a revival in the jeweler's art, so old that it is now again, as a great many more little things in the fashion world.

Intuitive particularly are inlaid with enamel. Made of platinum or polished silver, they are colored by the little spots of bright enamel arranged into designs made in the smooth surface. Just two or three of them on a garment will give an elegant touch that could not be got by a full dozen of another sort.

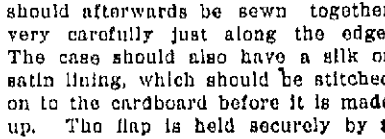

To Whiten the Skin.

In the first place do not allow the skin to get as brown as a gypsy's before you try to whiten it. Always use a cleansing cream and face powder before going out in the sun. When you come in cleanse first with the cleansing cream, wipe it all off, then out a tonate in half and rub it all over the face; leave this on for a few minutes before bathing and you can avoid getting so brown.

TO HOLD THE FOUNTAIN PEN

Useful Little Case Simple in Construction That Will Be Found of Much Value.

A useful little fountain pen pocket is shown in our sketch. It can be made very easily from part of an old evening glove, using the piece which comes between the wrist and the elbow. The lid may be stretched smoothly over two pieces of thin cardboard cut to the required shape. These should afterwards be sewn together very carefully just along the edge. The case should also have a silk or satin lining, which should be stitched on to the cardboard before it is made up. The flap is held securely by a

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Give the chicks grit.

The young horse has many things to learn.

Skim milk is good for the chickens this time of year.

The root maggot of cabbage comes from the egg of a fly.

The finer the teeth of the cultivator the finer and more satisfactory the work.

In the training of colts a blow should never be struck, or a loud or violent word used.

The early shorn sheep grows its new fleece rapidly and is soon out of danger from any ordinary disease.

Slain drinking vessels breed disease. A few cents' worth of disinfectant will soon save dollars' worth of poultry.

It pays to keep livestock on the farm for the manure they make and the unmarketable feeds they can turn into money.

A thorough investigation of the methods of feeding young turkeys shows to what extent general rules are followed.

Three barrows of young corn may be given, one just before the corn is up, and one when the young plants are several inches high.

There is a very laudable movement now in progress among the shippers of fresh fruits looking to the uniformity of packing and the standardization of fruit.

The best raiser who aims at the greatest possible profit from his business must use cattle especially adapted to the purpose and perfected to a high degree.

Corn should be cut for the silo when it is fairly well matured; that is, when the kernels are in what is known as the "dough stage," all or nearly all of the kernels being dented.

Clover and rape seeded for hog or calf pasture make cheap feed. A small patch of this will save the buying of a good deal of bran and other concentrates. A dollar saved is two dollars earned.

The best way to begin the poultry business is in a small way. As you learn from experience, the best teacher, you can increase your flock and find out the best markets for your products.

Spring pigs can get along very well without shelter, except from rain, until fall, then if you are so shiftless as to fail to provide shelter they are better able to stand the cold and rain. But they will not thrive.

The Finger Nails.
Loosen the cuticle very gently around the base of the nail daily with an emery board stick, after soaking the hands. Do not cut it unless it is very long. If trained in this way every day it will not require cutting.

Keep the bird against the neck.
It is useless to try to pet a hungry animal.
Steel cut oatmeal stands far most as a tiny chick food.
Strawberry plants may be set out as late as the middle of summer.
The foliage of the nasturtium is equally as beautiful as the blossoms.
Turkeys are perhaps the most profitable of poultry kind if properly handled.
Burnt wheat may be fed to fowls as it readily—that is, good conditioned fowls.
Dried red blood, meat meal and hoof meal contain from 10 to 14 per cent. of nitrogen.
Hens very often lose their eyesight through dust and may need falling into their eyes from the loft above.
A new style in baby beef has been set. The kind that is going to market at present is the 300 to 500 pound type.
It is easily possible almost every where to make a hen produce this dollar's worth of eggs a year out of $1.50 worth of feed.
Soy beans require conditions and cultivation similar to those required by corn. Good preparation of the soil is necessary.
For dry and cloudy corn fields, either before or after the corn is planted, a heavy roller is better than either the harrow or drag.
Barley straw makes a fine little plant food to the soil besides containing considerable organic matter which will go toward the formation of humus.
To secure the greatest benefit from a green manuring crop care must be taken in turning it under to have the soil harrowed and puffed as best as it is possible.
A proper handling of the milk is most essential. Too often it is drawn from the cow in stables in which the air is filled with dust and put in unclean vessels.
Live stock needs water at all seasons, but water during warm weather is more essential. Provide now for a good water supply for the animals during the summer months.
The color of milk does not indicate the richness of it. Oftentimes milk which is rich is blue in color and oftentimes milk which is yellow and rich looking is of a rather poor quality.
Cream, on the average, will weigh about eight pounds to the gallon, but it varies, according to the purport of butter fat which it contains. It is well known that butter-fat is lighter than milk.
Success in poultry culture is simply the result of looking after all the little details connected with the business. Anyone can be successful if he will use a little diligence and common sense.
Most of the brood mares in the central west are dual purpose in character. They not only raise colts but most of them put in eight or ten hours of strenuous labor every day when the colts are ten days or two weeks old.
Fertilizers too rich in nitrogen should not be applied to the field intended for oats, because the growth will be too rank and the production of grain will be retarded. The same is true in a very limited measure of corn.
If young hogs are kept in close confinement and fed heavily on corn alone, they will most likely develop leg weakness, as they require nitrogenous foods in which skim milk should take a large part in order to grow good, solid bones.
Not how much, but how well, is a good motto for farmers who are in the chicken business. Better to hatch and raise a small number of fine, thrifty early chickens than to hatch a hundred or two and lose or stunt them for lack of care or suitable accommodations.
Plant lice are sucking insects which damage trees and other plants by injecting a poisonous saliva, and then sucking out the sap. The leaves upon which they live curl and fall, the form protecting homes within which the pests are safe, and cannot be reached by any spray liquids.
Just because your neighbor is getting more eggs than yourself don't think that you must change your breed of fowls. There is something nowadays in the kind of care you give your stock. Some breeds lay better than others, but any one will lay a fair average of eggs ten months in the year.
Wheat containing kingweed seed is cut in price, because it is almost impossible to remove them, and if they are ground with the wheat the flour is discolored and lowered in grade. It is an annual, living only one year from the seed. It infests the border of streams in any region where rains are frequent and thoroughly saturates the soil. One man skilled in raising sugar beets says that the ground ought to be so thoroughly packed and prepared that when the horses walk over it in drilling, their feet ought not to sink into the ground.
Clean straw used as a mulch around the bush beans will keep them free from dirt.
Farm teams should not be highly pampered, but given good care and a liberal amount of substantial foods to sustain them in a vigorous and sprightly condition.
The more comfortable, the more ease, the cow can be kept, the greater her production, with the minimum of expenditure of vital forces; hence colts stand for profit in the cow.

Democratic County Convention.

A Democratic county convention has been called to be held at the city hall on the west side, Saturday afternoon, July 9th, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Democratic State Convention to be held in the city of Milwaukee, Tuesday, July 12th at noon. A delegation of Democrats from every voting precinct in Wood county should be present at this meeting.

The evident purpose of the law requiring the Democratic party to cast 20 per cent of its vote in the primaries is to entirely wipe out the Democratic party in Wisconsin. The law was invented and passed by the friends and supporters of Senator La Follette and is as vicious a specimen of Republican legislation as was ever put upon the statute books of this state. Every Democrat worthy of the name, and in fact every citizen who believes in a representative form of government should resent this high handed attempt to destroy the Democratic party which came into existence with the birth of the Republic and has maintained, protected, and influenced legislation from its organization down to the present time. Every citizen of Wood county who believes in fair play and a Republican form of government, irrespective of his past party affiliations, should place the stamp of his disapproval in unmistakable language upon this attempt to establish in the state of Wisconsin, an autocracy based upon political greed.

There is a feeling abroad of the kind that this is a Democratic year. The recent elections in Massachusetts and New York point strongly to more Democratic successes to come, and it is incumbent upon the Democrats of Wood county to do their share to accomplish party success and all Democrats should turn out at the convention to be held on Saturday, July 9th.

A PLEA FOR JUSTICE TO THE CONSUMPTIVE.

A plea for justice to the consumptive is being made by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association for the benefit of the thousands of sufferers in Wisconsin.

"The careless consumptive alone is dangerous. The careful consumptive is not, and should be encouraged," says a bulletin issued by the association.

"Phthisiophobia, or the exaggerated fear of contracting phthisis, or consumption, is not only out of place, but unjust and cruel to the careful and conscientious consumptive. Some people in their fear and prejudice go so far as not only to consider the consumptive a physical danger, but also as morally peculiar or something worse. This is absurd. The unfortunate consumptive often suffers more and cowardly fear than he does from the disease itself.

"Let us get together and make every consumptive careful and conscientious. Infection is possible only through the sputum or spit. Teach the patients to properly and safely dispose of their sputum and they are no longer dangerous."

It is a well established fact that so far as contracting the disease is concerned, there is no safer place to live than in a tuberculosis sanatorium. In the largest and oldest sanatorium in the U. S., no case has ever developed amongst attending physicians or nurses.

"Here are some of the evils of phthisiophobia, or the 'consumption terror': It paralyzes the struggle against tuberculosis, it renders all measures against tuberculosis more difficult; it facilitates the spread of infection; it causes cruel behavior to consumptives; it is a sign of shameful cowardice; it causes us to overlook the real danger.

"Let's be just to consumptives. Give them a helping hand. Don't make them objects of pity. Make them happy, hopeful and cheerful."

Farmers' Institutes for 1910-11.

Any farmer or public spirited business man in Wisconsin who wishes to secure an institute for his locality during the winter of 1910-1911 should send to us for a blank petition and letter of information. Any town, no matter how small or how far from the railroad, is entitled to an institute, provided it is located in a farming district and has a good hall in which a meeting can be held.

Farmers should talk this matter up with their neighbors and if the sentiment seems favorable for an institute for their town they should write us at once for application blanks. Address all communications to Geo. McKerrrow, Supt.

Democrats throughout the state should make it a point to vote at the primary and vote the Democratic ticket. Should the vote fall below 20 per cent of that cast at the last presidential election, there will be no Democratic party. That is, there will be no Democratic column on the ticket, and the Democrats running for state offices will have to run independently. This would leave but one big party in the state, and the average citizen knows what that means. Stick to your own party; let the republicans wash their own dirty linen; and don't fail to vote.

State Convention.

By direction of the Democratic State Central committee, a delegate convention of the Democratic electors of the state of Wisconsin is hereby called to be held in the city of Milwaukee, Tuesday, July 12, 1910, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of perfecting the party organization in the state, and formulating a platform and policy for which the Democratic party of Wisconsin stands, thereby giving aid and counsel to the candidates of said party whose legal duty it is to formulate the party platform and who will be chosen at the September Primaries, and for the transaction of such other business as it may decide upon.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Grand Rapids Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

—It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the ills and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains, they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidneys. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. E. H. Chapman, Wisconsin and Ninth Street, N. Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I suffered from a dull, nagging backache and acute pains along my loins for a long time. If I attempted to stoop or lift, sharp twinges passed through my body and I felt miserable. I had severe headaches and pains in the back of my head and when I arose in the morning, I was very tired. My kidneys were bad and the secretions gave me great annoyance. I at length read of Doan's Kidney Pills and concluding to give them a trial, I procured a box and felt relief of my trouble in a short time and I am therefore glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McClellan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Naming the Farm.

Some of the exchanges that come to the table of the Tribune have of late been commenting with favor on the idea of naming the farm and its contents like a very nice idea. It might be that it would be hard to find a name that was appropriate for some farms, but the owner might give it a nice name and then try to live up to it.

When riding thru the country, there is nothing nicer than to see the name of a farm painted on the barn in neat style. The owner may not know it, nor have put the name there for that purpose, but it is a fact that it adds to the value of the farm to have it named. It also impresses the passer by with the idea that the owner has intelligence, is proud of his place, is progressive and believes in advertising.

We advise all of the Tribune readers to think the matter over and if they have a farm that is worth naming, to name it. If the farm is not worth naming, the best thing to do is to make it worth naming.

Candidate for Sheriff.

To the voters of Wood county—I wish to announce that I am a candidate on the democratic ticket for the office of sheriff. Should I be fortunate enough to be elected I promise to be faithful to every trust connected with said office.

Michael Mason, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Possibly True. Many a preacher would revise his sermons on the next life if he knew more about this one.—St. Louis Times.

ALTDORF

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Wonder if we would ever have built that insane asylum if it had been put to a popular vote? The same applies to our marble and gold state capitol which fairly dazzles one when he enters it and which will cost probably a couple of million dollars to construct. Add to that the proposition of wrecking about six of the best banks and we of Madison for a "park" in the time of Nero. If our "lawmakers" would go through the country and see the poverty on every hand and the many people just eking out an existence it might open their eyes a little if not their hearts. Republicanism has become synonymous with extravagance and extortion of the poor. Prices are only limited by the inability of people to pay more.

How many people imagine they are being educated when they are only being entertained and amused. W. Lawrence has finished sawing lumber at Mr. Frithe's and has moved to his home at Nekosia.

P. Wirtz has decided to complete his barn this summer.

A good many from here attended Ringling's circus last Wednesday. The world's most successful medicine for bowel complaints is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has relieved more pain and suffering and saved more lives than any other medicine in use. Invaluable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

KELLNER.

Last Thursday morning occurred the death of Mrs. Bartel. Although she had been an invalid for a number of years her end was not expected so soon. The little boys foot race was won by Henry Miller, and the big boys foot race was won by Andrew Hjerstead. The wrestling match between Messrs. Joeek and Kaffney was won by Mr. Joeek.

Forest fires are getting in their work in and about City Point. The moss beds at and near that town have suffered, many of them, total destruction by the ravages of the forest fire. Men are doing nothing, and have for the past ten days done nothing, but fight fire. The peculiarity in and about the district where the moss beds are to be found, makes it particularly hard for the fire to be fought as the fire will run under the ground and come out at a point which has for the time being been abandoned as safe.

Nash Mitchell of this city will be a candidate in the republican primaries for the nomination for state senator of this district in the early fall. Word was sent to F. S. Woodworth last night from Milwaukee by Mr. Mitchell himself of his intention of making the race for the nomination. This senatorial district, the 9th, is composed of four counties: Wood, Adams, Marquette, Waushara, and once the nomination is secured, election is almost certain as this senatorial district is strongly republican.

C. O. Britton of Grand Junction, Mich., has been in the city the greater part of the week in the interests of the moss beds to be found on the Mitchell farm south of the city. He is of the opinion that the clay is of the best to be found and will try and do what he can for the improvement of the situation.

"Foley Kidney Pills have Cured Me." The above is a quotation from a letter written by H. M. Winkler, Evansville, Ind., contracted with severe kidney trouble. My back gave out and pained me. I took Foley Kidney Pills regularly and am now perfectly well and feel like a new man. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Johnson & Hill Co. and J. E. Daly.

NEW ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

The new athletic director for the University of Wisconsin, just appointed by the regents, is George W. Elder, an Ohio man and a graduate of the Pennsylvania Military College at Chester, Pa., who for the past two years has been secretary of the Public Athletic League at Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Elder, who will fill this fall the position left vacant by the resignation of Dr. O. P. Harkness, has had wide experience in various forms of physical training, both in organization work and actual teaching, having been director of physical training in charge of 1,000 young men in Chicago for twelve years, and afterward for two years director of the physical training and athletics of the entire school system of the city of Cleveland.

At Baltimore Mr. Elder's work has included the organization and direction of the gymnasium classes and sports of all the children and young men and women of the city in twelve gymnasium centers established in six public parks, three general settlements, and three vacant lots in different parts of the city, some 2,400 men and boys and 400 women and girls being enrolled in the regular gymnasium classes.

Marshfield News.—The great success made by local funders in the propagation of the English pheasant has had the effect upon the Marshfield Game Protective Association of making an effort to stock the woods in this vicinity with this variety of bird. Thirty-six pairs have been spoken for to be delivered to the association next spring, who will not them loose in the woods. The English pheasant is a very hardy bird, stand the cold well and multiply as rapidly as quail. Their meat is excellent and the bird itself a most beautiful specimen of the feathered tribe, especially the male which is as handsome as a peacock. The experiment will be watched with much interest by Wisconsin sportsmen.

GANDERBONE'S FORECAST FOR JULY

When the Ballinger trial is ended, and the jury has said what it thinks. When the case has been made and defended. With the wonted political winks—We shall smile—and gads, we shall need to That feel it as well had been dropped. And the Goggenheim crowd will proceed to Resume where it was when it stopped. The signs shall come down in the timber. And the patents shall tie up the coal. The law will get fussy and limber. And the trust will do well on the whole. It always turns out in that manner. At any rate, we may blush to confess it. And we do not regard it a humor. Achievement, exactly, to guess it. July is a tribute to Caesar. One day, with some other ingredients, he talked by the Pillar of Pompey on things of political urgency. He was just on the point of explaining the key to some government riddle when a party of regulars jumped on him and cut him in two in the middle. There were Decius Brutus, the speaker, and Cassius, boss of the Senate, together with others insistent upon some political tenet. "The party forever!" they shouted, and what with that terrible slaughter Servilius Caeser great Caesar as well had been run through a hash.

At any rate, Antony found him cut up into fodder for fishes, and begged this request of the Romans, who granted the least of his wishes. And thus it has happened and shall be so long as the Tiber runs by the Pillar of Pompey that Caesar shall live in the name of July.

The Fourth shall return to discover Us waiting in battle array. And what with one thing and another Regretting we won, anyway. The cannon shall boom, and the scurible For things on the medicine shelves Shall warn inexperienced countries Aspiring to freedom themselves.

The dynamite cap and the rocket shall remind us of tyranny thwarted, and the valiant forefather shall turn in his coffin to see what he started. The eagle shall mount on his plumes and circle the North and the South, and the rapid fire orator stand on the platform and shoot off his mouth.

This latter, however, is harmless in a strict pathological way, but remains notwithstanding an evil must in due season ally. Also, how de-felicit is nature that might lay this path on the shelf with railing that shooting his mouth off he gave the lackjaw to himself!

This tetanus, we are quite certain, has good and defensible uses, and all of its manifestations thus far have been only whims. The idea, as we regard it, is not that it should be the cause of any more serious matter than locking the orator's jaws.

You know that we never hear of it except on the Fourth of July, and whenever some innocent gets it we forever are wondering why. We, think is the fact of the matter, and by Jove, we are willing to bet it turns out in the long run that no one but a lot of old wind jammers get it.

However, be that as it may be, And got whom the tetanus will, "The jubilant youth of the nation Will resume with its shooting to kill.

The safe and the same celebration Will suit us who are not so skittish. But the youngsters have got to do something To show what we did to the British.

There never was anything safe in the way the forefathers attacked them, and as for the safer attainments, the old fellows seem to have looked them. They simply cast fear to the howlows and waded into the fray, and a boy does not think himself self worthy if he can't shoot himself, anyway.

At any rate, Joffries and Johnson will grow like a couple of poodles and observe independence with beating the hair off their mutual poodles. They'll atone making the other levitation howl for his mother, and if the country at random is lucky they'll manage to kill one another. It's only a plan to make money, deserving the strictest of strictures, for what they will have is a race war, dividing what's made on the poodles. We've been pretty mad in this country for dollars, and power, and places, but this is the first time we've trafficked upon the abyss between races.

The fat occupant of the White House Will lie on his back in the grass Beneath the green Beverly maples. Observing the aeroplanes pass. The chauffeurs will keep right on chauffing.

With seeing it's no one but Bill, And they'll sigh just to think what had happened. Had they down over Sagamore Hill.

But not every man can be Caesar, as someone has stated, alas! and in the due course of the matter somebody must lie in the grass. It's hard on a strenuous nation, afflicting as it is in a way, but we look on the brighter side of it, and conclude it is good for the day.

However, Time flies is a proverb, And one day, his foot on his song And his engine back-pedaling, August Will come aeroplaning along.

New Athletic Director.

The new athletic director for the University of Wisconsin, just appointed by the regents, is George W. Ehler, an Ohio man and a graduate of the Pennsylvania Military College at Chester, Pa., who for the past two years has been secretary of the Public Athletic League at Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Ehler, who will fill this fall the position left vacant by the resignation of Dr. C. F. Harching, has had wide experience in various forms of physical training, both in organization work and actual coaching, having been director of physical training in charge of 4,000 young men in Chicago for twelve years, and afterward for two years director of the physical training and athletics of the entire school system of the city of Cleveland.

At Baltimore Mr. Ehler's work has included the organization and direction of the gymnasium classes and sports of all the children and young men and women of the city in twelve gymnasium centers established in six public parks, three social settlements, and three vacant lots in different parts of the city, some 2,400 men and boys and 450 women and girls being enrolled in the regular gymnasium classes.

Marshfield News:—The great success made by local fanatics in the propagation of the English pheasant has had the effect upon the Marshfield Game Protective Association of making an effort to stock the woods in this vicinity with this variety of bird. Thirty-six pairs have been spoken for to be delivered to the association next spring, who will set them loose in the woods. The English pheasant is a very hardy bird, stand the cold well and multiply as rapidly as quail. Their meat is excellent and the bird of itself a most beautiful specimen of the feathered tribe, especially the male which is as handsome as a peacock. The experiment will be watched with much eagerness by Wisconsin sportsmen.

Canderbone's Forecast for July.

When the Ballinger trial is ended, and the jury has said what it thinks when the case has been made and defended.

With the wanted political winks—We shall smile—and gads, we shall need to feel it as well had been dropped.

And the Guggenheim crowd will proceed to Resume where it was when it stopped.

The signs shall come down in the timber, And the patents shall lie up the coal. The law will get flabby and limber, And the trust will do well on the whole.

It always turns out in that manner, Altho we may blush to confess it, And we do not regard it a bummer.

Achievement, exactly, to guess it. July is a tribute to Caesar. One day, with some other insurgents, he talked by the Pillar of Pompey on things of political urgency. He was just on the point of explaining the key to some government riddle when a party of regulars jumped on him and cut him in two in the middle.

There were Decius Brutus, the speaker, and Cassius, boss of the Senate, together with others insistent upon some political tenet. "The party forever!" they shouted, and what with that terrible slaughter Servilius Casca great Caesar as well had been run through a basher.

At any rate, Antony found him cut up into fodder for fishes, and begged this request of the Romans, who granted the least of his wishes. And thus it has happened and shall be so long as the Pillar of Pompey that Caesar shall live in the name of July.

The Fourth shall return to discover Us waiting in battle array, And what with one thing and another Regretting we won, anyway.

The cannon shall boom, and the scuffle Shall turn on the medicine shelves. For things on the medicine shelves Shall warn inexperienced countries Aspiring to freedom themselves.

The dynamite cap and the rocket shall remind us of tyranny thwarted, and the valiant forefather shall turn in his coffin to see what he started.

The eagle shall mount on his plumes, and circle the North and the South, and the rapid fire orator stand on the platform and shoot off his mouth.

This latter, however, is harmless in a strict pathological way, but remains notwithstanding an evil moust in due season all the same. It is a fact of nature that might lay this pest on the month off he gave the lockjaw to himself!

For tetrads, we are quite certain, has good and defensible uses, and all of its manifestations thus far have been only abuses. The idea, as we regard it, is not that it should be the cause of any more serious matter than locking the orator's jaws.

You know that we never hear of it except on the Fourth of July, and whenever some innocent gets it we forever are wondering why. We, this is the fact of the matter, and by Jove, we are willing to bet it turns out in the long run that no one but a lot of old wind jammers get it.

However, be that as it may be, And get whom the tetrads will, The jubilant youth of the nation Will resume with its shooting to kill.

The safe and the same celebration Will suit us who are not so skittish. But the youngsters have got to do something To show what we did to the British.

There never was anything safe in the way the forefathers attacked them, and as for the safer attainments, the old fellows seem to have lacked them. They simply cast fear to the bowwows and waded into the fray, and a boy does not think himself worthy if he can't shoot himself, anyway.

At any rate, Jeffries and Johnson will grow like a couple of poodles and observe independence with beating the hair off their mutual noddies. They'll alternate making the other Leviathan howl for his mother, and if the country at random is lucky they'll manage to kill one another.

It's only a plan to make money, deserving the strictest of strictures, for what they will have is a race war, dividing what's made on the pictures. We've been pretty mad in this country for dollars, and power, and places, but this is the first time we've trafficked upon the abyss between races.

The fat occupant of the White House Will lie on his back in the grass Beneath the green Beverly maples. Observing the aeroplane pass.

The chauffeurs will keep right on chaffing, With seeing it's no one but Bill, And they'll wish just to think what had happened Had they flown over Sagamore Hill.

But not every man can be Caesar, as someone has stated, alas! and in the due course of the matter somebody must lie in the grass. It's hard on a strenuous nation, afflicting us in a way, but we look on the brighter side of it, and conclude it is good for the day.

However, Time flies is a proverb, And one day, his foot on his rump And his engine back-pedaling, August Will come aeroplaning along.

The relation of the larger universities of the United States to the practical problems of existence is being emphasized in an astonishing degree nowadays, says Chicago Tribune. If the notion of cloistered halls where pale-faced students pore over dusty tomes once held sway, that idea has entirely disappeared. The dominant thought appears to be, how can the training of the schools be made most useful in bettering the conditions of human life. The University of Wisconsin, for example, has been rendering great service to the people of our neighboring commonwealth through its municipal reference bureau. Recognizing the activity in the field of city administration, it has collected information from all available sources, and is now ready to send out material on such subjects as sewage disposal, water supply and purification, street sprinkling and cleaning, the smoke nuisance, parks and playgrounds, care of trees, the commission form of government, public utilities and public service rates, civic centers and art commissions. The statement that one morning's mail brought inquiries from fifty officials in nine different commonwealths indicates the importance of such university work.

There is always room higher up for the young American who has the talent and the disposition to win. Few enlisted men in the navy rise to commissioned rank, for the way is long and arduous. But the prize can be secured by proper effort. One of these rare cases is reported from Annapolis, where Frederick M. Karl of Northfield, Vt., lately an apprentice in the navy, has passed the requisite examination and has been admitted to the Naval academy as a midshipman, and in due time of course, if all goes well, will receive his diploma and become an officer. This young man is said to have gone through "with flying colors," and it may be predicted that with such pluck and energy he will make his mark in the service of his country. And he has set an excellent example to other ambitious lads.

Advice by an energetic, efficient business man to a man now going back to work after a tired out spell: "Take things easier and get more fresh air. No worry. Do the most important thing first and then the next; generally the things you don't do aren't worth doing. What you think you ought to do you want to do up to the hilt, and do it quick and then forget it. Don't putter. The way to get along, in my judgment, is to work up to the limit for a certain number of hours and then stop. A man can get further in the long run walking three and a half miles an hour for eight hours out of each twenty-four than he can going two miles an hour for sixteen hours in twenty-four. The first way can keep going and improve; the last way he will deteriorate and finally have to quit."

The night letter telegrams have proved a boon to many, but there are patrons that find them somewhat baffling. "Look at that man biting the end of his pen over there," the manager of a New York office said. "He is trying to think what in the world to say to use up the 50 words he is entitled to. I like to watch 'em in here at nights. Most of them have more trouble trying to think up 50 words than they ever did in keeping their messages down to ten. There is only one man who comes in here, sits right down and writes out his 50 words without hesitating. But he's in business down south, and has been in the habit of sending long messages for years."

President Schurman of Cornell points out that the scholarship records of the 1,020 men at the college who are members of the fraternities and clubs do not compare favorably with those of the 2,315 men who are not, and has warned the fraternity and club men that they are in trouble, and that they would better set higher ideals in scholarship. There is no objection to liberty and equality at Cornell, but fraternity is looked on with suspicion.

In view of the fact that that Washington society girl's mother says that her daughter has been absolutely forbidden by her to go on the stage, perhaps it is not surprising that the girl is there.

Whether or not a Chicago man wears a collar two days in succession depends more on the man, perhaps, than it does on the condition of the collar.

Arguments for international peace are popular except when they are made excuses for military indolence.

A news item from Indiana tells of the explosion of a powder magazine and adds that the man in charge "cannot be found." Probably he is as scared that he is going yet.

Harvard's new color is described as being an "arterial red." To the variety teams and crews it should carry the suggestion of good sporting blood.

PASS POSTAL BILL

"BIG STICK" BRINGS VOTE

Measure Now Goes to President, Without Conference—His Signature Will Make It Law—Disposal of Deposits Was Main Issue.

Washington.—Lacking only the signature of President Taft to become a law, the final step toward postal savings was taken Wednesday when the senate concurred in the house postal savings bill after voting down a number of amendments.

President Taft's action in assuming a "big stick" policy is recorded as having made the vote a certainty. The vote was 41 to 25. The new law now goes to President Taft without a conference.

On the main issue of the legislation relating to the disposal of deposits in postal banks the house bill provided that 65 per cent. may be redeposited in the local banks and 35 per cent. may be used for the purchase of bonds backed by the taxing power of the national government. There is nothing arbitrary about either of these provisions, however, and the vote of the senate will be retained as a reserve fund.

An security for deposits in local banks, bonds backed by national, state and municipal government and other securities approved by the trustees may be used.

The house bill creates a board of trustees consisting of the postmaster general, the secretary of the treasury and the attorney general, who are vested with administration in the administration of the system, including the selection of post offices as postal savings banks.

Deposits in these banks by one person shall not extend more than $100 a month, or a total of $500, on which interest shall be paid at the rate of two per cent. a year. An account may be opened with one dollar, but stamps may be purchased in the denomination of ten cents for those desiring to accumulate money to be deposited.

At the request of the depositor government bonds in amount of $20, $40, $60, $80, $100 and $500 may be purchased with his deposit, the bonds to be held interest at 2½ per cent. These bonds will cover a refunding of the $61,000,000 of three per cent. government bonds outstanding and a new issue of Panama canal bonds. The bonds will be required to pay 2½ per cent. interest on postal-bank funds deposited with them.

AIRSHIP LINE IS OPENED

Duesseldorf, Germany.—Regular airship passenger service was established Wednesday for the first time when Count Zeppelin's great craft, the Deutschland, carrying 20 passengers, made the first scheduled trip from Friedrichshafen to this city, a distance of 300 miles, in nine hours.

The weather was perfect and the motor work faultless. The average speed maintained was approximately 33 miles an hour, but between Friedrichshafen and Stuttgart 124 miles were covered at an average of 41 miles an hour. The best speed for one hour was 43½ miles.

Count Zeppelin was at the helm when the Deutschland left at Friedrichshafen at 3 a. m. and sailed away on the trip that was to mark an epoch in aviation. The passengers were several directors of the Hamburg-American Steamship company and the German Atlantic Steamship company. Joint owners of the dirigible balloon, and guests. They occupied the mahogany-walled cabin between the gondolas, from the windows of which they viewed scenery as the aerial car swept along.

EXCESSIVE HEAT KILLS MANY

WHOLE COUNTRY IS IN GRASP OF HOT WAVE.

Dozens of Mill Men Fall at Their Work in Pittsburgh—Ten Deaths in Philadelphia.

Chicago.—Heat-stricken Chicago suffered and writhed through another day of intense temperatures. And to make the burden less bearable an unusual humidity accompanied the hot wave.

Seven deaths and hundreds of prostrations were added to the already large toll, which for the last seven days numbers 32 dead and more than 1,000 prostrations. Infant mortality is not included.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Mill men, unaccustomed to the midsummer heat, dropped by the dozens during the day in the big steel mills of the Monongahela valley. At least half the department in the United States Steel corporation plants at Homestead, Braddock and Duquesne shut down for six hours during the hottest part of the day. Two men dropped dead in the early afternoon at the Homestead plant. In Pittsburgh proper five deaths and 25 prostrations were reported.

Philadelphia.—Ten deaths directly attributable to the heat, with scores of prostrations, was the day's record for Philadelphia. The thermometer stood at 92 officially.

New York, June 23.—Four deaths, three of them in Brooklyn, and 69 or more persons driven insane and a number of prostrations marked the hottest day of the year in New York. At least 10,000 persons slept on the sidewalks. The unshapely ones were those who had to ride in the subway.

OVERWHELMED BY HIS MAIL

Roosevelt Simply Cannot Answer the Thousands of Letters and Telegrams Reaching Him.

New York.—Colonel Roosevelt has been overwhelmed by the letters and telegrams awaiting him at Oyster Bay and at his office with the Outlook.

"Thousands of letters have accumulated and more are arriving daily," says a friend of the president. "Many of them are friendly greetings, many contain political advice and a few are from old friends with whom the colonel has been corresponding."

It may interest the writers to know that the great mass of this correspondence will never reach Roosevelt's eye. Some of it may be seen by persons employed to look after it, but it is not really believed that all the letters will be read.

"I would be glad if you make it known," said the colonel to the newspaper men Monday, "that the volume of correspondence is so great that I cannot do it myself. I am personally interested in a kind of personal letter, but I am unable to read them all. I am sending no telegrams."

"I am sure that my friends who have received no replies, or disappointing replies, to their communications, will know that it is because they have not come to my attention."

MISS ROOSEVELT NOT TO WED

Her Father Characterizes Story of Her Engagement as "Scandalous Infamy of a Scoundrel."

New York.—When former President Theodore Roosevelt motored to town from Oyster Bay, he was not in the best of humor. A story had appeared in print to the effect that his daughter Ethel was engaged to James Thompson Williams, Jr., who was a recent visitor at Sagamore Hill. This the colonel denied, characterizing the report as the "scandalous infamy of a scoundrel." He also had a denial ready for the report that he had come out as an opponent of the direct primary bill advocated by Governor Hughes.

Standard Reduces Oil Prices.

New York.—The wholesale prices for refined oil have been reduced from one and one-half cents to one cent a gallon by the Standard Oil company, making the prevailing price throughout the country now seven and one-half cents a gallon. The standard controls more than seventy per cent of the refined output of the country and it can readily be seen what such a reduction in price means to the great corporation.

CHORUS—"MUCH OBLIGED TO MEET YOU."

GOV. HARMON IS RENOMINATED

DEMOCRATS IN CONVENTION INDORSE OHIO CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

Proposition to Pledge Candidate for United States Senator Is Defeated.

Dayton, O.—The following resolution, endorsing Gov. Judson Harmon for the presidency in 1912, was adopted by the Ohio Democratic convention after the renomination of Mr. Harmon for governor by acclamation: "We favor the attention of the nation to Judson Harmon and the work he is doing for Ohio. Two years hence it will have been completed, then we can spare him for larger duties. He believes that with his personal—his action on that belief at home and abroad, it is upon it in larger fields. A high sense of duty provides his only motives for official actions and his sense of justice alone compels judgment. Firmness and strength mark him the man to supplant vacillation and weakness. The nation needs a real man, and the Ohio Democracy here presents and indorses for the presidency in 1912 Judson Harmon."

Alcee Pomeroy of Canton was nominated for lieutenant governor on the second ballot and the vote was made unanimous without finishing the roll call.

The proposition to indorse a candidate for United States senator was defeated by a vote of 840 to 254.

Governor Harmon in his address before the convention made a scathing attack on the Payne-Aldrich tariff and declared that the only agency by which the "interests who profit through high tariff laws" can be dislodged is through the Democratic party.

NEW CHILD LABOR LAWS ARE NEEDED

Enactments Should Be of Much Wider Scope.

PHYSICAL WELFARE GUARDED

Labor Commissioner Beck, After Investigating 6,000 Cases, Recommends Maximum Day of Eight Hours.

Madison.—An investigation of 6,000 cases of child labor in Wisconsin has convinced State Labor Commissioner J. D. Beck that additional legislation for dealing with this problem should be enacted. In all the cases investigated the children had permits to work issued by the state. Agents of the labor commissioner visited and examined homes, schools and places of employment of these children. Seventy-five per cent. was in the city of Milwaukee. Commissioner Beck has forwarded the following recommendations on the subject to Governor Davidson, who will lay them before the legislature next winter:

Broader discretion in the refusal of state permits.

Broadening of the system of public instruction, especially of all phases of industrial education.

A maximum working day of eight hours for children.

The requirement of a minimum number of years of school attendance before a permit can be issued.

A more vigorous enforcement of the truancy law.

"The physical welfare of these children," says Commissioner Beck, "appears to be well guarded in most directions. The physical consequences are the least injurious of the results of child labor in this state. Most of the injurious and dangerous occupations are prohibited for children under sixteen, and hence physical injury, whenever it results, is due to the fatigue of protracted labor."

"Serious social consequences are involved in the future of the child workers. The premature ending of the child's schooling, the expansion of his nervous and physical energy, the mental arrest resulting from excessively mechanical tasks, and duties calling for no amount of responsibility, and the moral and social injuries resulting from such work until the child, whether boy or girl, for future citizenship or helpful social intercourse."

"In return for the fatigue, the occasional danger, the mental arrest, and the moral and social injuries resulting from their labor, the girls commonly earn from $2 to $4 and the boys from $3 to $6 a week."

"The accumulations of property for parents, poor health, discontent with school, the ill adaptation of the child to the needs of all children, and ambition or desire for money on the part of the children account for more than half of the cases of child labor."

Walsh Completes His Staff.

Department Commander Frank A. Walsh of the Wisconsin G. A. R. has completed the selection of his staff as follows:

Department Inspector, William J. Smith of Racine; chief master of log, Leverett C. Hall of Silver Lake; chief clerk, A. S. Douglas of Monroe; chief of staff, George L. Thomas of Milwaukee.

The members of the staff heretofore appointed are as follows:

Assistant adjutant general, J. A. Watrous of Milwaukee; assistant quartermaster general, Fred A. Hird of Madison; department patrol instructor, J. W. Wood of Madison.

The visiting committee for this term will consist of Judge J. S. Anderson of Manitowish, and ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard of Port Arkison.

The department commander will include in his next general order a plan for the organization of a Sunshine club in each post, the object of which will be to have on hand at all times a small voluntary fund with which to purchase flowers to be sent to the comrades who languish on beds of sickness.

Ask Reduction of Express Rates.

A Madison attorney is in charge of Wisconsin's determined fight to lower express rates in the state on an average of 25 per cent. The Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee recently retained Walter Drew of Madison, an expert statistician and lawyer, to compile data and make an examination.

The examination showed rates to be so high that a complaint was adjusted to the Interstate Commerce commission. The railroad commission and later on will be filed with the interstate commerce commission.

To Have Student Court.

The faculty of the University of Wisconsin, subject to the approval of the regents, has granted the request of the young women of the institution for a student court to be composed of the members chosen by the Girls' Self-Government association, to have entire charge of disciplining women students for infractions of the rules of the university and of the association.

This gives the students of the university complete self-government in all matters of conduct, as the men already have a students' court.

Ambassador Talks to Graduates.

Count Johann Heinrich von Harnack, ambassador from Germany to the United States, delivered the baccalaureate address at the opening of the exercises of commencement week at the University of Wisconsin.

The ambition of the masses of the German nation, said the count, "is not so much for economic amelioration and material advantage as for education. The masses see in education an endless perspective, and their thirst for knowledge impels them to seek an education."

Order Refund of Freight Charges.

Five minor orders have been filed by the railroad commission, four of them directing refunds of excessive freight charges by railroad companies. The application of the Burlington Electric Light & Power company for authority to increase rates was dismissed.

State Will Examine Stenographers.

The stenographic examinations for legislative positions in various state institutions will be held all over the state.

Negro Burned at the Stake.

Rusk, Tex.—Leonard Johnson, charged with having killed Maude Redding, a young white woman, near here, was burned Monday at the stake by a mob. Sheriff Nowland and a posse were en route here with the negro when they were overpowered near the home of the murdered woman. He confessed that he had not only murdered but had attacked Miss Redding. The negro was then tied to a stake and after brush had been piled high around the torch was applied.

Doctor's Body Found in Lake.

Chicago.—The body of Dr. L. L. Luck, thirty-five years old, 4143 Wentworth avenue, was found Monday floating in the lake at East Seventy-fifth street by Policeman Lynch of the South Chicago station.

Eight in Auto Smash-Up.

Marion, Ind.—Cleo Shaffer, fourteen years old, was instantly killed and seven girls and boys, her playmates, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding turned over near this city Sunday.

CAN'T BAR WOMAN'S NAME

Attorney General F. L. Gilbert ruled that it is not within the power of a county clerk to prevent the name of a woman, who has been nominated as a nomination paper, being placed on the ballot as a candidate for a county office.

The ruling is given to cover the case in Ashland county, where Nellie M. Archibald, present deputy county treasurer, is a candidate for the office of treasurer, and demanded that her name be placed on the ballot with those of the other candidates.

The attorney general holds that there is nothing in the law that prevents a woman's name appearing on the ballot. He offers no opinion, however, as to the eligibility of a woman to be a candidate for a county office, and says that the question never has been passed on by the state supreme court.

He says further that he believes that the court should be asked to hand down a decision covering the question.

Capital Commission Lacks Funds.

The failure of the legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to properly finish the governor's quarters in the new east wing of the capitol will necessitate delay in that work and only a temporary delay will be given to that for execution of the work.

Such was the conclusion of the executive committee of the capitol commission, Governor Davidson, Magnus Swenson and George H. D. Johnson, at a meeting the other day. Other matters considered were the establishing of a new school from the approach to the capitol so that the service places may be put into connection with the main to be held around the park.

Blind Ask Legislation.

Alumni of the state school for the blind will endeavor to induce the legislature to pass a bill providing that the state superintendent of public instruction shall be an ex-officio member of the board of control.

This action was decided on at the annual reunion. It is an alteration of the plan to have the school placed under the control of the educational department, and removed from the oversight of the board of control.

Over one hundred alumni were in attendance. They came from several different states. Addresses were given by William H. Graham, Milwaukee, member of the state board of control, and Anna M. Russell, who has charge of the department for the blind in the Milwaukee public schools.

The reunion celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of the first commencement of the institution.

Public Buildings for Wisconsin.

In Washington, D. C., the house committee on public buildings and grounds has reported the following recommendations for public buildings in Wisconsin:

Madison, $50,000 for a post office.

Manitowish, $75,000 for a post office.

Sparta, $50,000 for a site and building.

Port Arthur, $10,000 for site.

Port Adams, $10,000 for site.

Lancaster, $5,000 for site.

Monroe, $7,500 for site.

Neenah, $7,500 for site.

The treasury estimate for the Milwaukee appendix store was $120,000.

Bullard Appointed Judge.

Attorney Elias Bullard of Menasha was appointed by Governor Davidson as judge of Winnebago county to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Judge C. D. Cleveland.

The appointment will serve until a person is elected to the office next April and has qualified, the election being for the remainder of Judge Cleveland's term, which will end December 31, 1914.

Mr. Bullard was born in Maine about sixty-nine years ago. He was admitted to the bar in 1897.

Found New Fellowship.

The regents of the University of Wisconsin have established a number of teaching fellowships to be awarded each year to the members of the graduating class.

The graduates elected to these fellowships will devote half of the year to teaching under the supervision of the principal and teachers in one of the city high schools of the state, and devote the other half of the year to advanced work.

Company Defeats City of Merrill.

The state railroad commission has dismissed the petition of the city of Merrill for an order requiring the Merrill Electric Light & Power company to extend its lines in that city.

The commission held that it had no authority to require the company to extend its lines in a case in which there was doubt as to whether the additional investment would be a paying one.

Delays Seining Season.

State Game Warden G. W. Rickman has decided not to issue any licenses for seining rough fish in the waters of the state until July 15, in order to protect herring eggs now in process of hatching. Heretofore these licenses were issued on and after June 1. The law gives the game warden discretionary authority regarding the issuing of these licenses. The game warden also has decided not to issue any licenses of this character to persons ever convicted of violating the fish or game laws.

New Corporations.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of Secretary of State Frear as follows:

THE NEWER EDUCATION.

The relation of the larger universities of the United States to the practical problems of existence is being emphasized in an astonishing degree nowadays, says Chicago Tribune. If the notion of cloistered halls where pale-faced students pored over musty tomes once held sway, that idea has entirely disappeared. The dominant thought appears to be, how can the training of the schools be made most useful in bettering the conditions of human life. The University of Wisconsin, for example, has been rendering great service to the people of our neighboring commonwealth through its municipal reference bureau. Recognizing the activity in the field of city administration, it has collected information from all available sources, and is now ready to send out material on such subjects as sewage disposal, water supply and purification, street sprinkling and cleaning, the smoke nuisance, parks and playgrounds, care of trees, the commission form of government, public utilities and public service rates, civic centers and art commissions. The statement that one morning's mail brought inquiries from city officials in nine different commonwealths indicates the importance of such university work.

There is always room higher up for the young American who has the talent and the disposition to win. Few enlisted men in the navy rise to commissioned rank, for the way is long and arduous. But the prize can be secured by proper effort. One of these rare cases is reported from Annapolis, where Frederick M. Earl of Northfield, Vt., lately an apprentice in the navy, has passed the requisite examination and has been admitted to the Naval academy as a midshipman, and in due time of course, if all goes well, will receive his diploma and become an officer. The young man is said to have gone through "with flying colors," and it may be predicted that with such pluck and energy he will make his mark in the service of his country. And he has set an excellent example to other ambitious lads.

Advice by an energetic, efficient business man to a man now going back to work after a tired out spell: "Take things easier and get more fresh air. No worry. Do the most important thing first and then the next; generally the things you don't do aren't worth doing. What you think you ought to do you want to do up to the hilt and do it quick and then forget it. Don't putter. The way to get along, in my judgment, is to work up to the limit for a certain number of hours and then stop. A man can get further in the long run walking three and a half miles an hour for eight hours out of each twenty-four than he can going two miles an hour for sixteen hours in twenty-four. The first way he can keep going and improve; the last way he will deteriorate and finally have to quit."

The night letter telegrams have proved a boon to many, but there are patrons that find them somewhat baffling. "Look at that man biting the end of his pen over there," the manager of a New York office said. "He is trying to think what in the world to use up the 50 words he is entitled to. I like to watch 'em in here at nights. Most of them have more trouble trying to think up 50 words than they ever did in keeping their messages down to ten. There is only one man who comes in here, sits right down and writes out his 50 words without hesitating. But he's in business down south, and has been in the habit of sending long messages for years."

President Schurman of Cornell points out that the scholarship records of the 1,020 men at the college who are members of the fraternities and clubs do not compare favorably with those of the 2,316 men who are not, and has urged that the fraternity and club men be better set higher ideals in scholarship. There is no objection to liberty and equality at Cornell, but fraternity is looked on with suspicion.

Whether or not a Chicago man wears a collar two days in succession depends more on the man, perhaps, than it does on the condition of the collar.

Arguments for international peace are popular except when they are made excuses for military indolence.

A news item from Indiana tells of the explosion of a powder magazine and adds that the man in charge "can't be found." Probably he is so scared that he is going yet.

PASS POSTAL BILL

"BIG STICK" BRINGS VOTE

Washington.—Lacking only the signature of President Taft to become a law, the final step toward postal savings was taken Wednesday when the senate concurred in the house postal-savings bill after voting down a number of amendments.

President Taft's action in assuming a "big stick" policy is regarded as having made the vote a certainty.

The vote was 44 to 25. The bill now goes to President Taft without a conference. On the main issue of the legislation relating to the disposal of deposits in postal banks the house bill concurred in by the senate provides that 65 per cent may be redeposited in the local banks and 35 per cent may be used for the purchase of bonds backed by the taxing power of the national government. There is nothing arbitrary about either of these provisions, however. Five per cent of the deposits will be retained as a reserve fund.

An security for deposits in local banks, bonds backed by national, state and municipal government and other securities approved by the trustees may be used.

The house bill creates a board of trustees consisting of the postmaster general, the secretary of the treasury and the attorney general, who are vested with administration of the system, including the designation of post offices as postal-savings banks.

Deposits in these banks by one person, or a total of $500, on which interest shall be paid at the rate of two per cent a year. An account may be opened with one dollar, but stamps may be purchased in the denomination of ten cents for those desiring to accumulate money for a special purpose. The maximum amount of deposits in postal-savings banks in amount of $20, $40, $60, $80, $100 and $500 may be purchased with his deposit, the bonds to bear interest at 2 1/2 per cent. These bonds will cover a refunding of the $64,000,000 of three per cent government bonds maturing and a new issue of Panama canal bonds. The bonds will be required to pay 2 1/2 per cent interest on postal-bank funds deposited with them.

AIRSHIP LINE IS OPENED

Duesseldorf, Germany.—Regular airship passenger service was established Wednesday for the first time when Count Zeppelin's great craft, the Deutschland, carrying 20 passengers, made the first scheduled trip from Friedrichshafen to this city, a distance of 300 miles, in nine hours. The weather was perfect, and the balloon sailed smoothly. The average speed maintained was approximately 33 miles an hour, but between Friedrichshafen and Stuttgart 124 miles were covered at an average of 41 miles an hour. The best speed for one hour was 43 1/2 miles.

Count Zeppelin, who is the helm of the Deutschland left at Friedrichshafen at 3 a. m. and sailed away on the trip that was to mark an epoch in aviation. The passengers were several directors of the Hamburg-American Steamship company and the German Airship company, and the German owners of the dirigible balloon, and guests. They occupied the mahogany-walled cabin between the gondolas, from the windows of which they viewed scenery as the aerial car swept along.

EXCESSIVE HEAT KILLS MANY

WHOLE COUNTRY IS IN GRASP OF HOT WAVE.

Dozens of Mill Men Fall at Their Work in Pittsburgh—Ten Deaths in Philadelphia.

Chicago.—Heat-stricken Chicago suffered and writhed through another day of intense temperatures. And to make the burden less bearable an unusual humidity accompanied the hot wave.

Seven deaths and hundreds of prostrations were added to the already large toll, which for the last seven days numbers 42 dead and more than 1,000 prostrations. Infant mortality is not included.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Mill men, unaccustomed to the midsummer heat, dropped by the dozens during the day in the big steel mills of the Monaca valley. At least half the departments in the United States Steel corporation plants at Homestead, Braddock and Duquesne shut down for six hours during the hottest part of the day. Two men dropped dead in the early afternoon at the Homestead plant. In Pittsburgh proper five deaths and 25 prostrations were reported.

Philadelphia.—Ten deaths directly attributable to the heat, with scores of prostrations, was the day's record for Philadelphia. The thermometer stood at 92 officially.

New York, June 23.—Four deaths, three of them in Brooklyn, a number of persons driven insane and 50 or more prostrations marked the hottest day of the year. At Coney Island at least 10,000 persons slept in the sands. The unaccustomed ones were those who had to ride in the subway.

OVERHEATED BY HIS MAIL

New York.—Colonel Roosevelt has been overwhelmed by the letters and telegrams awaiting him at Oyster Bay and at his office with the Outlook. Thousands of letters have accumulated and more are arriving daily. Many of them are friendly greetings, a few are from old friends with whom the colonel has been corresponding. It may interest the writers to know that the great mass of this correspondence will never reach Roosevelt's eyes. Some of it may be seen by persons employed to look after it, but it is not really believed that all the letters will be read. "I would be glad if you make it known," said the colonel to the newspaper men Monday, "that the volume of correspondence is so great that I cannot give it my personal attention. It will be a kindness for well disposed strangers to refrain from writing me or sending me telegrams. I am sure that my friends who have received no replies, or disappointing replies, to their communications, will know that it is because they have not come to my attention."

MISS ROOSEVELT NOT TO WED

New York.—When former President Theodore Roosevelt motored to town from Oyster Bay he was not in the best of humor. A story that his daughter, Miss Roosevelt, was engaged to James Ethel was engaged to James Thompson Williams, Jr., who was a recent visitor at Sagamore Hill. This the colonel denied, characterizing the report as the "scandalous infamy of a scoundrel." He also had a denial ready for the report that he had come out as an opponent of the direct primary bill advocated by Governor Hughes.

Referring directly to Minority Leader Champ Clark, the speaker suggested that the speaker would make the best speaker the minority could obtain. This remark was a signal for an ovation by the Democrats in honor of their floor leader.

Enactments Should Be of Much Wider Scope.

PHYSICAL WELFARE GUARDED

Labor Commissioner Beck, After Investigating 6,000 Cases, Recommends Maximum Day of Eight Hours.

Madison.—An investigation of 6,000 cases of child labor in Wisconsin has convinced State Labor Commissioner J. D. Beck that additional legislation for dealing with this problem should be enacted in all the cases investigated.

Broader discretion in the refusal of state permits. Broadening of the system of public instruction, especially of all phases of industrial education.

The requirement of a minimum number of years of school attendance before a permit can be issued. Stricter responsibility on the part of employers for the physical and moral environment of the children they hire.

"The physical welfare of these children," says Commissioner Beck, "appears to be well guarded in most directions. The physical consequences are the least injurious of the results of the injurious and dangerous occupations prohibited for children under sixteen, and hence physical injury, whenever it results, is due to the fatigue of protracted labor."

"The premature ending of the child's schooling, the exhaustion of mental and physical energy, the moral arrest resulting from excessive mechanical tasks, and duties calling for no serious sense of responsibility, and the moral and social injuries resulting from such work unfit the child, whether boy or girl, for future citizenship or helpful social intercourse."

"In return for the fatigue, the occasional danger, the mental arrest, and the moral and social injuries resulting from their labor, the girls commonly earn from $2 to $4 and the boys from $3 to $5 a week."

"The accumulations of property for parents, poor health, discontent with school, the ill adaptation of the schools to the needs of all children, and ambition or desire for money on the part of the children account for more than half of the cases of child labor."

Walsh Completes His Staff. Department Commander Frank A. Walsh of the Wisconsin State Police has completed the selection of his staff as follows: Department Inspector, Hiram J. Smith of Racine; chief muster officer, Leverett C. Hall of Fall River; judge advocate, S. A. Douglass of Monroe; chief clerk, George L. Thomas of Milwaukee.

The members of the staff heretofore appointed are as follows: Assistant adjutant general, J. A. Watrous of Milwaukee; assistant quartermaster general, Fred A. Bird of Madison; department patriotic instructor, J. W. Rood of Madison.

The visiting committee for this term will consist of Judge J. S. Anderson of Manitowish, and ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard of Fort Atkinson.

The department commander will include in his next general order a plan for the organization of a Sunshine club in each post, the object of which will be to have on hand at all times a small voluntary fund with which to purchase flowers to be sent to the comrades who languish on beds of sickness.

Ask Reduction of Express Rates. A Madison attorney is in charge of Wisconsin's determined fight to lower express rates in the state on an average of 25 per cent. The Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee recently retained Walter Drew of Madison, an expert statistician and lawyer, to compile data and make an examination.

The examination showed rates to be so high that a complaint to adjust them has been filed with the Wisconsin railroad commission and later one will be filed with the interstate commerce commission.

To Have Student Court. The faculty of the University of Wisconsin, subject to the approval of the regents, has granted the request of the young women of the institution for a student court to be composed of the members chosen by the Girls' Self-Government association, to have entire charge of disciplining women students for infractions of the rules of the university and of the association.

This gives the students of the university complete self-government in all matters of conduct, as the men are read to have a students' court.

Ambassador Talks to Graduates. Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, ambassador from Germany to the United States, delivered the baccalaureate address at the opening of the exercises of commencement week at the University of Wisconsin.

"The ambition of the masses of the German nation," said the count, "is not so much for economic amelioration and material advantage as for education. The masses see in education an endless perspective, and their thirst for knowledge impels them to seek an education."

Order Refund of Freight Charges. Five million orders have been filed by the railroad commission, four of them directing refunds of excessive freight charges by railroad companies. The application of the Darlington Electric Light & Power company for authority to increase rates was dismissed.

State Will Examine Stenographers. The stenographic examinations for legislative positions in various state institutions will be held. Examinations will be held all over the state.

Can't Bar Woman's Name. Attorney General F. L. Gilbert ruled that it is not within the power of a county clerk to prevent the name of a woman, who has presented proper nomination papers, being placed on the ballot as a candidate for a county office.

The ruling is given to cover the case in Ashland county, where Nellie M. Archibald, present deputy county treasurer, is a candidate for the office of treasurer, and demanded that her name be placed on the ballot with those of the other candidates.

The attorney general holds that there is nothing in the law that prevents a woman's name appearing on the ballot. He offers no opinion, however, as to the eligibility of a woman to be a candidate for a county office, and says that the question never has been passed on by the state supreme court.

He says further that he believes that the court should be asked to hand down a decision covering the question.

Capital Commission Lacks Funds.

The failure of the legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to properly finish the governor's quarters in the new east wing of the capitol will necessitate delay in that work, and only a temporary finish will be given so that the executive offices may be moved in by September 1. It is the idea of the committee that the executive office should be finished in a style of becoming dignity, and the committee that the legislature may be given an opportunity to consider the matter and make appropriate provision.

Such was the conclusion of the executive committee of the capitol commission, Governor Davidson, Magnus Swenson and George H. D. Johnson, at a meeting the other day. Other matters considered were the establishing of grades from the approaches to the capitol so that the service pipes may be put into connection with the main to be laid around the park.

Blind Ask Legislation.

Alumni of the state school for the blind will endeavor to induce the legislature to pass a bill providing that the state superintendent of public instruction shall be an ex-officio member of the board of control.

This action was decided on at the alumni reunion. It is an alteration of the plan to have the school placed under the control of the state department, and removed from the supervision of the board of control.

Over one hundred alumni were in attendance. They came from several different states. Addresses were given by William H. Grabner, Milwaukee, member of the state board of control, and Anna M. Russell, who has been in the Milwaukee public schools.

The reunion celebrates the sixtieth anniversary of the first commencement of the institution.

Fort Atkinson, $10,000 for site. Lancaster, $5,000 for site. Monroe, $7,500 for site. Neenah, $7,500 for site.

The treasury estimate for the Milwaukee appraiser's store was $120,000. Bullard Appointed Judge. Attorney Elias Bullard of Menasha was appointed by Governor Davidson as judge of Winnebago county to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Judge D. C. Cleveland.

Mr. Bullard will serve until a person is elected to the office next April and has qualified, the election being for the remainder of Judge Cleveland's term, which will end December 31, 1914.

Mr. Bullard was born in Maine about sixty-nine years ago. He was admitted to the bar in 1887.

Found New Fellowships. The regents of the University of Wisconsin have established a number of teaching fellowships to be awarded to the members of the graduating class.

The graduates elected to these fellowships will devote half of the year to teaching under the supervision of the principal and teachers in one of the city high schools of the state, and devote the other half of the year to advanced work.

Company Defeats City of Merrill. The state railroad commission has dismissed the petition of the city of Merrill for an order requiring the Merrill Electric Light & Power company to extend its lines in that city. The commission held that it had no authority to require the company to extend its lines in a case in which there was doubt as to whether the additional investment would be a paying one.

Delays Selling Season. State Game Warden G. W. Rickman has decided not to issue any licenses for selling rough fish in the waters of the state until July 15, in order to protect bass eggs now in process of hatching. Heretofore these licenses were issued on and after June 1. The law gives the game warden discretionary authority regarding the issuing of these licenses. The game warden also has decided not to issue any licenses of this character to persons ever convicted of violating the fish or game laws.

New Corporations. Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of Secretary of State Freas as follows: Wausau Clothing company, Wausau; capital, $20,000; incorporators, John Anderson, Sr., J. S. Coal, C. W. Anderson.

WEDDING OF MISS
BESSIE BRACE

Miss Elizabeth Brace, daughter of Mrs. Geo. P. Hambrecht of this city, was married on Thursday at Tomah. The following writup of the event is taken from the Tomah Journal.

A brilliant nuptial event took place in St. Mary's Catholic church on Thursday, June 30th, when Miss Elizabeth Brace of this city was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Mr. Peter Krier of Antigo, Wis. By special dispensation for the convenience of the parties the public service was held at 8 o'clock in the evening and at that hour the church was filled to the doors with the invited friends. The church had been tastefully decorated for the occasion by the Sisters in a color scheme of green and white, the effect of which was very pleasing. The ushers were Frederick Barrows

Jr. of this city, Mr. Pariah Lewis and Mr. William Quigley of Antigo, Wis. Just before the arrival of the bridal party ribbons were stretched across the aisles by the ushers. The party was preceded by two little flower girls, the Misses Katharine McCaul and Carol Goodyear, both dressed in pink and white, carrying bouquets of pink and white roses. They were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Irma Hessel who wore pink chiffon over white silk and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. Then came the bride attired in a white musaline silk gown with point lace trimmings and wearing a tulle wedding veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was accompanied by her father, Mr. George P. Hambrecht of Grand Rapids.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Lyman Steffen, and the officiating priest,

Rev. Fr. Wurst. The beautiful and impressive wedding service music was rendered by the choir and pipe organ at which Sister M. Petra presided.

On leaving the church the bridal party went directly to the residence of P. S. Barrows on Kibbourn avenue where they received the congratulations and best wishes of their friends. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the pink and white color scheme with roses, chrysanthemums, similar and ferns. The porch and grounds were specially lighted with electricity and the large company of guests, numbering about one hundred and fifty, were delightfully entertained. The hostess being assisted by Mesdames J. G. Graham, F. Barrows Jr., W. W. Warren, F. Hart, W. R. McCaul and Geo. Graham. Delectable refreshments were served in the dining room and side porch, the tables being presided over by Mrs.

Ella Goodyear and Mrs. O. B. Wells. They were assisted by six young ladies, viz: Misses Fay Lee, Laura Roseland, Hazel Wells, Irene Baker, Ruth Maxwell and Hazel Squier.

The Tomah concert band was in attendance and discoursed fine music throughout the evening. The wedding gifts were very numerous and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Krier took their departure on the 11.05 p. m. train for a few days trip, after which they will return to Tomah and then go to Antigo where they are to reside. WEDDING OF MISS BESSIE BRACE

Miss Elizabeth Brace, daughter of Mrs. Geo. P. Hambrecht of this city, was married on Thursday at Tomah. The following writup of the event is taken from the Tomah Journal:

A brilliant nuptial event took place in St. Mary's Catholic church on Thursday, June 30th, when Miss Elizabeth Brace of this city was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Mr. Peter Krier of Antigo, Wis. By special dispensation for the convenience of the parties the public service was held at 8 o'clock in the evening and at that hour the church was filled to the doors with the invited friends. The church had been tastefully decorated for the occasion by the Sisters in a color scheme of green and white, the effect of which was very pleasing. The ushers were Frederick Barrows

Jr. of this city. Mr. Parish Lewis and Mr. William Quigley of Antigo, Wis. Just before the arrival of the bridal party ribbons were stretched across the aisles by the ushers. The party was preceded by two little flower girls, the Misses Katharine McCaul and Carol Goodyear, both dressed in pink and white, carrying baskets of pink and white roses. They were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Irma Hessel who wore pink chiffon over white silk and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. Then came the bride attired in white, wearing a long gown with white lace trimmings and wearing a white messaline veil. She carried a white bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was accompanied by her father, Mr. George P. Hambrecht of Grand Rapids.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Lyman Steffen, and the officiating priest.

Rev. Fr. Wurst. Throughout the beautiful and impressive wedding service music was rendered by the choir and pipe organ at which Sister M. Petra presided.

On leaving the church the bridal party went directly to the residence of F. S. Barrows on Kilbourn avenue where they received the congratulations and best wishes of their friends. The rooms were beautifully decorated in the pink and white color scheme with roses, chrysanthemums, simlax and ferns. The porch and grounds were specially lighted with electricity and the large company of guests, numbering about one hundred and fifty, were delightfully entertained, the hostess being assisted by Mesdames J. G. Graham, F. Barrows Jr., W. W. Warren, F. Hart, W. R. McCaul and Geo. Graham. Delectable refreshments were served in the dining room and side porch, the tables being presided over by Mrs.

Elia Goodyear and Mrs. C. B. Wells. They were assisted by six young ladies, viz: Misses Fay Lee, Laura Boshard, Hazel Wells, Irene Baker, Ruth Maxwell and Hazel Squier.

The Tomah concert band was in attendance and discoursed fine music throughout the evening. The wedding gifts were very numerous and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Krier took their departure on the 11:05 p. m. train for a few days trip, after which they will return to Tomah and then go to Antigo where they are to reside. They will not be at home to their friends until Sept. 1st as they will await the completion of a beautiful new home which is the wedding gift of the groom's father, Mr. William K. Krier.
